Tri-State Bank of Memphis was founded in 1946 by the late Dr. J. E. Walker, and his son, the late A. Maceo Walker. They dreamed of a bank, which would constructively change community conditions. Led by the late Jesse H. Turner, the bank developed innovative financial and community service. Tri-State Bank of Memphis has redefined community banking with leadership, commitment, and concern. Since 1946, bank leaders have tried to effect constructive change and increase economic opportunities for the underserved and, thereby, all area residents. Our tradition of service has made us sensitive to the needs of everyone. We seek to provide personal, professional service to all!
